(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. R. Young, president of the defunct Goldfield Bank and Trust Company, and Francis L. Burton, cashier, were arrested tonight by Detectives Bunker and Freese as they were preparing to return to Goldfield.

Francis L. Burton has an open debit of $127, a promissory note for $200, another for $1500, a total of $2627, two checks for $5000 each, on which $2000 had been advanced, making Burton personally indebted in the sum of $12,627.

THE ASSETS ARE: Overdrafts, $10,652; bills receivable, $4,812.50; real estate, $12,283.65; cash, $21.05; missing, $78,247.29.

MASS-MEETING OF CREDITORS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) May 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A mass-meeting of the creditors of the defunct Goldfield Bank and Trust Company was held tonight to hear the report of the self-constituted committee which, today, examined the books and affairs of the institution.

THE EXAMINATION OF THE BOOKS SHOWS THAT, on May 18, $42,500 was drawn out, and nothing remains to show where it went except a "debit" with the entry "charge to stocks and bonds."

Including this amount, the sum of $78,000 is missing, and there are upon the bank premises no list of the bank's securities which are said to be in the possession of Young in San Francisco, where he went yesterday.

BURTON WAS ALLOWED TO DRAW OUT nearly thirteen thousand dollars by means of notes, overdrafts and checks at a time when the institution was in a critical condition, and this action precipitated the collapse.

Wires received here today from Young and Burton declare their intention of returning and paying all deposits.

Great indignation was expressed at the mass-meeting tonight against Young, Boal and Burton, and warrants have been issued for the arrest of each, but up to a late hour tonight no advice had been received indicating that they had been taken into custody.

One transaction by Burton, a Los Angeles woman, about three weeks ago, whom he claims is wealthy, and is on his honeymoon.

MANILA, May 23.—[By Pacific Cable.] The convention of the Federal party will reassemble May 28. The plank prepared by the conservative wing endorses Secretary Taft's policy; calls for a general assembly in 1906, claims that it was a fraud of the islands that the census returns were delayed for eight months; asks for the addition of two natives to the island commission; asks for the reorganization of the municipal board and the representation of business and other interests; urges the reduction of the constabulary to one-half of the present force.

THE REORGANIZATION OF THE constabulary has been recommended by the reorganization of the people at an early date and the separation of the executive from the legislative branch of the island government. to the extent of something like $600. About twenty guests of the hotel are also out small sums, yet they stick by Jackson and are making strenuous efforts to save him from the penitentiary.

Jackson was arrested on Spring street yesterday morning on a warrant sworn out by Justice Pierce's court charging embezzlement. He was locked in the County Jail to await a hearing this morning. The arrest was the result of a careful investigation of the young man's accounts by Proprietor Munn, who says he has discovered a shortage of $600.

Two months ago Mr. Munn became convinced that Jackson had been systematically falsifying his accounts and an effort was made to check him up; but Jackson proved to be a skilled tactician and refused to be caught. Several people in the house, Mr. Munn asserts, aided Jackson to evade detection by declaring they still owed accounts when they had paid them and held receipts signed by Jackson. Just how Jackson managed to hypnotize these people is a mystery.

Jackson's undoing was finally brought about by the payment of arrears of rent which was owed by a chubbily-faced reporter formerly employed on the Examiner, who was a plunger at the Ascot races. This reporter, like all others who went up against the touts at Ascot, finally lost everything and left the city owing a number of people. The Hotel Munn held a claim against him for $48.15 and it was forwarded to the reporter's mother in the East, who immediately made $50 in bills to cancel the obligation.

Mr. Munn waited long and patiently for the money and finally wrote a second time. He was informed that the money had been sent and after a careful investigation Mr. Munn became convinced that his manager had appropriated the cash and failed to properly credit it on the books.

Accused of the theft by his employer Jackson denied it, but to another person he issued a receipt for the money. This happened May 15 and the following day Jackson was discharged. Proprietor Munn was able to discover a shortage of only about $100 at the time and Mrs. Jackson, who is a bright and vivacious young woman devoted to her husband, wired to her own mother for money with which to make good the shortage. She secured $125 and tendered it to Mr. Munn, but the latter would accept only $50. He told the loyal wife to keep the balance of the money and return to her people.

Not knowing the exact amount of the shortage, Mr. Munn agreed to take a note from Jackson for $200 due in thirty days and promised that no criminal prosecution would result provided the shortage did not exceed the amount of the note.

But when the matter became semi-public around the hotel, a dozen or more guests showed receipts for money paid which had not been credited, and the shortage quickly jumped above $500. Then it was decided to place Jackson under arrest.

Proprietor Munn attributes Jackson's troubles to the Ascot races and liquor. He is greatly perturbed over the matter, as he was told of Jackson and his wife and trusted them implicitly. At his hotel last night Mr. Munn, who has heretofore been reticent about the affair, finally concluded to talk.

"Jackson came to me nearly a year ago seeking a position," said Mr. Munn, "but I would not engage him as I detected liquor on his breath. Later some well-known hotel people recommended him highly, and I engaged him with the distinct understanding that he would forewear drink and gambling. He promised and all went well for a season. Both Jackson and his wife immediately became great favorites with the guests at the hotel. Mrs. Jackson was especially popular and I believe she is entirely innocent of any wrongdoing. Her husband simply deceived her. Two months ago I began to suspect Jackson because I found out that he was drinking. I found an investigation, but his guests stood by him and I was unable to prove anything. Then the case of the reporter who left the city owing a bill was reported to me and finally I learned that the young man's mother had paid the bill. Later I found that Jackson had stolen the money and his wife confessed to me that she had found the empty envelope in her husband's pocket.

No Plea for Mercy or of Extenuating

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—Edward J. Smith, the defaulting tax collector of this city, who embezzled $65,000 of public money and whose flight was intercepted at St. Louis, appeared in the Superior Court today to plead to the indictments for embezzlement returned against him. It had been reported that Smith had decided to plead guilty and the courtroom was thronged but the proceedings were utterly lacking in anything of a sensational character. When Smith entered, with his attorney, his case was immediately called, and the defendant was arraigned on two indictments. Smith, who was apparently very self possessed, quietly pleaded guilty. No plea for mercy or of extenuating circumstances was made and Judge Lawlor sentenced him to ten years' imprisonment at Folsom penitentiary on each charge.

William Polich, Whose Evidence

Room and Brutally Beat Him.

William Polich, a tyro in the detective business, who helped Capt. Ambler in his recent raids on the "blind pigs" in Sonoma town, is in the Receiving Hospital trying to recuperate from the effects of a beating he received yesterday afternoon at the hands of several "pigmasters" in the undoing of whom he was instrumental.

Polich was formerly in the meat business on San Fernando street, with one S. Pupich, but the shop was recently closed. During the raid on the "pigs" Polich worked for the Police Department and secured evidence that convicted D. Cervina of No. 638 Buena Vista street of selling liquor illegally. Cervina was fined $100 a week ago.

Yesterday a day of reckoning came for Cervina and his friends. Polich was asked to visit the store of Cervina, Geo. Sentic as it was stated to him, that Pupich wanted to pay over to his partner some realized from the affairs of the meat business. Suspecting nothing wrong, Polich says he went to the place, but immediately after he entered the door he was assaulted by Sentic and Pupich, who knocked him down and beat him unmercifully. Then Christina Bruch, a female employed in the store, seized the prostrate man over the head with a shoe.

Sentic and the Bruch woman were arrested, charged with battery.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

TOPEKA (Kan.) May 23.—Two tramps were arrested today by Detective Germaine of the Santa Fe, charged with trying to wreck Santa Fe passenger train No. 17 last night at Pauline, 10 miles south of here. The Santa Fe officials refuse to say what evidence they have against the men.

The track walker last night discovered a pile of ties in the track, twenty minutes before time for the train to pass. He removed the obstruction, thus averting a wreck. Soon afterward he captured the two men taken in charge today by Detective Germaine.

This is the second attempt made on No. 17 within the past two weeks, the first being successful, when the train was derailed near Emporia, May 13. General Manager Hurley announces that no expense will be spared to apprehend the criminals. Discharged employees are supposed to be the wreckers.

SHOOTING AT GOLDFIELD.

ALTERCATION OVER FARE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) May 23.—Charles H. Atwood of Denver was shot tonight on the main street of Goldfield by John Redmond. The shot entered the right leg, went through and hit the left knee joint, seriously injuring Atwood.

Four men ran out of a saloon fighting; two ran up the street, one turned and fired, hitting Atwood, who was simply a bystander. Redmond was caught with a revolver in his hand. He had intended to shoot Dan McStimley of Denver, with whom he had an altercation over a fare game.

THE SCAGGS DIVORCED.

Kate A. Scaggs was granted a divorce from William H. Scaggs yesterday by Judge Gibbs, on the ground of habitual intemperance and extreme cruelty. The parties were married at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., in April, 1886, and two years later the husband took to drinking heavily, and kept it up. In time, too, he became abusive and cruel to his wife. There are two children, 12 and 14 years, respectively, and these were awarded to the custody of the mother. Mrs. Scaggs did not ask for any alimony, inasmuch as she did not believe he ever would brace up sufficiently to earn any money.

POLICE CATCH
LENA BROCHES.Arrested With Mrs. Adler in Baltimore.Three-Thousand-Mile Chase
Across Continent.Fathers Join Hands to Regain Children.

After a flight of more than three thousand miles across the continent, with the police of every large city on their trail, watching for them, Mrs. Lena Broches and her young charge, Hazel Smith, the woman's two young children accompanied her. Acting Chief of Police Bradish was notified by the Baltimore Chief of Police last afternoon that the woman and the girl were in custody, and that they would be held pending the arrival of an officer from Los Angeles.

Mrs. Adler will, in all probability, be brought back to this city to answer a charge of kidnapping. Dietrich, Fredrick's attention has been enlisted in the case by Adolph I. Broches, father of the kidnapped girl, and Henry Adler, husband of the woman accused of the crime. Broches wants his daughter, and while Adler says he cares not a fig for his erring wife, he wants his two children. Requisition papers will be asked of Gov. Pardee for the woman, and when they are issued an officer will go to Baltimore to bring her back to Los Angeles. The parents of the Broches girl will defray her return expenses, and Adler will pay those of his two children.

KEPT POLICE GUESSING.

Mrs. Adler kept the police of nearly a dozen cities guessing during her flight, which was systematically planned and cleverly carried out. She evaded arrest in San Francisco, Ogdun, Utah, Cheyenne, Wyo, and Omaha, when the officers of those cities thought she would certainly come into their nets. She also fooled the police of Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis by dodging them.

A week ago Mrs. Adler disappeared, bag and baggage, from her late home at No. 540 Court Circle. Pretty Lena Broches, the sixteen-year-old daughter of Adolph I. Broches, a tailor who lived in the same house, disappeared at the same time. The father of the child and the husband of the woman were at once convinced that Mrs. Adler had kidnapped the girl in order to use her for immoral purposes. They sought the aid of the local police, and telegrams were sent to all the important cities on the various transcontinental lines. Detectives quickly learned the aliases under which the girl and woman were traveling, but their possession they were unable to locate them.

At Omaha, Chief Donahue arrested a woman and three children who seemed to fit the descriptions of the fleeing quartette, but later it was found that Mrs. Adler had skipped Omaha in her itinerary. Broches is bitter toward Mrs. Adler for stealing his daughter; he says he will prosecute her to the extent of the law. The woman is said to have exercised a powerful influence over the child, who seemed infatuated with her.

QUESTIONED IN BALTIMORE.

WOMAN AND GIRL TALK.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BALTIMORE, May 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Upon request by telegraph of Chief of Police Hammel of Los Angeles, the local police today arrested Mrs. Sophia Adler, aged 29 years, as she arrived at the home of her brother, Victor Krause, at No. 1298 East Lexington street, after traveling hither from Los Angeles. The woman is charged with kidnapping Lena Broches, who claims to be nearly eighteen years old. Two children of Mrs. Adler are also held, it being charged that they are abducted children.

Acting Marshal Manning cross-examined the woman. She said that she had been in Los Angeles with her husband about six months, and that he was in ill health and she found that she could not live with him any longer. She admitted that the Broches girl was no relation to her, but denied that she had encouraged the girl to leave her home.

Lena Broches declared she would fight against return, as she had been ill-treated at home. She acknowledged taking a bank-book of her mother's.

A big problem is beginning to stare the managers of the school in the face, and it is likely that ways and means of keeping the phenomenal school under cover will be the topic of discussion on Friday night. The enrollment of scholars in the school has now reached more than 1700, and with the home department added it is more than 2400. The average attendance for the present month has been over 1100. It's no shock to seat that many people in the school establishment, but it is hard to

After they are into classes, so that all may be benefited by the instruction without interference with others. On Children's Day, which has been set for June 11, seventy little pupils from the primary department and sent to take their place among the intermediates. Two older classes have for a while held their places in alcoves of the chapel, but it looks as if the results from the primary would make them hunt new quarters. For a long time D. J. Durand has been teaching a class of old folks in the main auditorium of the church, in which all men and women are pered, but the attendance sometimes goes as high as 600. The auditorium and chapel combined are not and never have been large enough to accommodate the people who flock to hear Dr. McIntire preach and the matter of finding more room for the general services, as well as the Sunday-school, is beginning to take the membership. That there is no intention of doing anything very new is indicated by the fact that workers are now engaged in putting in an improved heating and ventilating system, at a cost of several thousand dollars.

Anti-Saloon Orator Prefers Blind Pigs to Bars.

Y.M.C.A. Debate Decided in Favor of License.

Business Men and Others in Lively Discussion.

A meeting was held in the First Methodist Church last night by the anti-saloon people, who are contending for the adoption of the ordinance submitted by the City Council.

The meeting was led by Walter H. Fisher and the speakers were Z. C. Angeline and Rev. Robert S. Fisher. Among the things the latter said was this:

"We have heard it said that prohibition would be an improvement over 20 saloons. He asked the 'Whisky Merchants' and Beer Manufacturers' Association," as he derisively termed it.

FOR LICENSE.

Y.M.C.A. DEBATE.

According to the merits of four arguments presented at the meeting of the "Congress" in the Y.M.C.A. auditorium last evening it was decided that it would be to the betterment of Los Angeles at large to continue the operation of licensed saloons and the operation of liquor. The participants in the debate, which centered about the resolution, "Resolved, that it would be to the best interest of the people for the anti-saloon ordinance to be adopted," were for the affirmative, Clyde Doyle and Lewis M. Powell, and for the negative, Walter Carlson and Walter W. Switzer. Three judges, Messrs. Quillian, Herbelin and Myers rendered a decision for the negative after listening to a presentation of the arguments, announcing a vote of two to one. At the conclusion of the debate there was an open discussion during which many expressions from those in attendance were heard. A good-sized crowd attended the debate.

HOBOS RETORT TO "PROHIBITION."

About nine of the spectators who crowded round the speaker last night were wondrously and gloriously drunk. The "corner" has become shaken with fear because of the nightly visits of the prohibitionists, fearing that each jag may be the last. Consequently no chances are overlooked.

When Lawyer O. A. Morton fired his eloquence upon them, they fired excited questions back at him.

One fat old "bo" fixed the Honorable One with a beery stare and barked out: "How about liberty? Gimme liberty—or gimme death."

Mr. Morton responded with dignity, using the familiar arguments of the anti-saloon people about the liberty to get drunk opposed to the family happiness.

"How many of you before me have ever got any good from saloons?" he demanded in a burst of eloquence.

A dirty man in faded blue overalls didn't know what the occasion was; but it came to his befuddled intellect that the "parson" was holding up an appealing hand, so he shot both of his to the top of his head.

A snicker ran through the crowd.

"Uh," said the orator, staggered for a second; then he said impressively, "Ah, but one man of you all has got any good from saloons—what a hopeless minority!"

"How about poor men's clubs?" yelled an excited old man.

"How about poor men's families?" yelled back the orator.

"What will become of the families of all the saloon men thrown out of work?"

"The Committee of Fifteen will take care of them."

And the driver of the gospel wagon pulled out.

NO-SALOON MEETINGS.

TODAY'S PROGRAMME.

Nearly all of the hundred prayer meetings to be held in the churches this evening will be "saloon-must-go meetings."

Among the special meetings arranged for this evening the following are noted:

In Memorial Baptist Church, Rev. C. J. Hall of Gardena, will speak on "Objections Answered."

At Mateo Street Methodist Episcopal Church, South, J. O. Smith will speak and the White City Quartette will sing.

S. B. Kurts will speak at Mateo Street Nazarene Church and the White City Quartette will sing two or three selections.

At Avila Presbyterian Church a union meeting will be held of Spanish workers.

At Fifth and Los Angeles streets, O. D. Conroy will handle the stereophones. F. H. Olmstead and H. H. Home will speak and one of the quartettes sing.

The gospel wagon with the Meneley Quartette and a number of good speakers will hold two or three street meetings.

A. J. Wallace will speak at the First Congregational prayer meeting. W. O. Morton will address a meeting in Milcrest mission, Third and Clarence streets.

The Meneley Quartette did more than double duty last evening. First they sang from the wagon at First and Los Angeles streets, then to a great crowd at Fifth and Los Angeles streets, then to a fine audience in the First Methodist Church.

For and Against Prohibition.

[The contributions appearing below, coming from correspondents, are printed as they are, on the principle that all sides in a debate should be given a reasonable limit and where unbalanced, the Times is not responsible for the statements or views expressed by correspondents. It is an attitude on high license and prohibition, respectively, is known and unimpaired, and is voted in the editorial columns whenever occasion requires.]

The following communication is from a Spring street business man who, for reasons which he plainly states in it, refrains from placing his signature to it. It is an appeal for permission to have an opinion. He addressed it to "Mr. Long Hair."

Mr. Long Hair will find after the election on the proposed "no saloon ordinance" that you are the tall that has been trying to wag the dog, and after it is all over you will come to the conclusion that your vilifying campaign and that of your newspaper champion (The Evening Express) has made no votes for your side of the question. You and your public speakers have attacked, personally, every man who dared to express himself in favor of high license as against no saloons. You claim to be an American citizen and yet you deny to others the right of free speech and free thought. You are ever ready to decry the boyhood of an American and yet should any business man expose himself by expressing freely his opinions, you and your followers would be the first to set up a boycott against him. You impugn the motives of those who do not agree with you. You claim to be working on high moral grounds and deny that any man who thinks otherwise than yourself can be other than immoral.

The man who volunteers from you simply as a method is equally malign. High license will regulate. Prohibition will not. There you are, Mr. Long Hair, a slight difference of opinion and if you only knew my name how you and your unfair newspaper champion would hold me up to public scorn, as a man unworthy of patronage or respect.

Let me inform you that the majority of the large property holders or business men of this city do not agree with your methods. They believe this question can be solved by high license. They believe that your system deprives of personal liberty. They believe even from a moral standpoint that you are in the wrong. They believe that there will be more drunkenness and more temptation under the no-saloon plan than under the high license plan. They believe that Los Angeles is not such a bad place to live in even under its present law and that the terrible evil is evidenced by its rapid growth in population.

Now, Mr. Long Hair, go ahead and vote the way you believe is right, but don't deny me the same right. In passing let me say just one thing more, viz., the liberal spirit that has prevailed all these years in Los Angeles and the public spirit of its citizens is not the spirit of the bigot.

MR. SHORT HAIR.

LOS ANGELES, MAY 25.

THE OTHER SIDE.

From Roy Adams: Allow me to say a few words about the whisky business which is being agitated so much at present. Your article setting forth your views is full of good common sense and fair play, giving, as it were, to every citizen a fair square deal. About the time of the election, in the past thirty years, the most of which time being spent in mining camps, where we could see men more plainly than anywhere else, the terrible evils growing out of saloons. I am a practical miner, have spent a good deal of time and a whole lot of money in saloons, which, if saved, would purchase a snug little home worth $500. What did I receive for all this hard-earned money? Something worse than nothing. We noticed the people in the mining camps were, as a rule, happy, contented and well-to-do. At the conclusion of the debate there was an open discussion during which many expressions from those in attendance were heard. A good-sized crowd attended the debate.

PLEASANT FOR PHELPS-DODGE.

SUCH IS ACQUIREMENT OF THE EL PASO LINE.

Purchase Gives the Company a Railway Leading to Its Own Coal and Coke Supplies for Its Immense Smelting Works at Douglas. "Queen Sab" Trip.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 22.—The most important piece of railroad news brought out in the Southwest for years was that of the purchase by Phelps, Dodge & Co. of the El Paso and North-eastern Railway system, which has, by formal order, been annexed to the El Paso and Southwestern road, with H. J. Simmons as general manager. Simmons has had supervising parties in the Eastern Railway system, which has, by formal order, been annexed to the El Paso and Southwestern road, with H. J. Simmons as general manager. Simmons has had supervising parties in the Eastern Railway system, which has, by formal order, been annexed to the El Paso and Southwestern road, with H. J. Simmons as general manager.

The purchase, at a price of some $20,000,000, includes 412 miles of track, thus divided: El Paso and North-eastern, 100 miles; El Paso and Rock Island, 100 miles; Eastern Railway, 112; Alamogordo and Sacramento Mountain Railway, 32. With the lot go the Dawson coal mines, with coke ovens and a large acreage of land.

Just what the deal means has unfolded thus far only to the extent that the Phelps-Dodge people have gotten themselves into a very pleasant position, with their own railway leading to their own coal and coke supplies for their immense smelting works at Douglas, Nacozari, Morenci and Globe.

For several months the Southwest has had surveying parties in the field locating a line from Marston station, west of El Paso, to Gallup, N. M., and Durango, Colo., both coal producing points. It is understood that the company has acquired large coal land holdings at Gallup. All this stir was on account of the refusal of the Santa Fe to give its low freight rates to El Paso and Deming as had been demanded. Now it is told that the Santa Fe has "come down," and that a satisfactory arrangement (to the Southwest) has been made for the carriage of coal from Gallup south, but that the Phelps-Dodge road from Durango to Gallup, a distance of about 200 miles, will surely be built.

This would look like a coalition of the Santa Fe and Southwestern against the Southern Pacific, which is preparing to build a line from Durango, through Gallup, down to Clifton and Pecos, Ariz.

The rise of the Southwestern system is one of the most interesting of railway chronicles. At first Arizona South-eastern, a line about twenty-five miles in length, connecting Bisbee with the Sonora road, the Santa Fe at Fairbank. There arose a quarrel over freight charges, when the Phelps-Dodge interests (the Copper Queen Consolidated Mining Company) simply extended its road to a Southern Pacific connection at Benson. Soon thereafter the Santa Fe traded off the Sonora road and the Southern Pacific, taking in exchange the line from Needles to Mojave, Cal. Later, when the Southern Pacific failed to make rates on coal, coke and bullion that coincided with the ideas of its great partner, the Copper Queen company calmly set about building a line to El Paso.

This road, the El Paso and Southwestern, now has about 400 miles of track, tapping Benson, Tombstone, Naco, Bisbee, Douglas, Nacozari, Lordsburg, Deming and El Paso. The line has been thoroughly constructed, on the most modern lines, with heavy steel, and has a magnificent equipment of rolling stock. Though somewhat longer than the Southern Pacific, its trains commonly make about the same time from El Paso to Benson as those of the trunk road.

All of this great railway development is understood to have been accomplished without the placing of a single bond, every bill being paid from the earnings of a single Arizona mine, the Copper Queen, at Bisbee, much after the fashion in which the Salt Lake road was built from the output of another Arizona mine, the United Verde, at Jerome. Now it is possible to see the Phelps-Dodge line stretching toward spanning the continent.

FROM SAME BOX

Where the Foods Came From

"Look here, waiter, honest now, don't you dip every one of these faked breakfast foods out of the same box?"

"Well yes, boss, we do, all 'cept Grape-Nuts, cause that don't look like the others and the people know 'tackly what Grape-Nuts looks like. But there's 'bout a dozen different ones named on the bill of fare and they are all this rolled faked up, it makes any difference which one a man calls for we just take out the order from one box."

This talk led to an investigation. Dozens of factories sprung up about three years ago, making various kinds of breakfast foods, seeking to outdo the business of the original prepared breakfast food—Grape-Nuts. These concerns, after a precarious existence, nearly all failed, leaving thousands of boxes of their foods in mills and warehouses. These were in several instances bought up for a song by speculators and sold out to grocers and hotels for little or nothing. The process of working off this old stock has been slow. One will see the names on menus of faked foods that went out of business a year and a half or two years ago. In a few cases where the abandoned factories have been bought up, there is an effort to resuscitate the defunct, and by copying the style of advertising of Grape-Nuts, seek to influence people to purchase. But the public has been educated to the fact that all these thin faked foods are simply soaked wheat or oats rolled thin and dried out and packed. They are not prepared like Grape-Nuts, in which the thorough baking and other operations which turn the starch part of the wheat and barley into sugar, occupy many hours and result in a food so digestible that small infants thrive on it, while it also contains the selected elements of Phosphate of Potash and Albumen that unite in the body to produce the soft gray substance in brain and nerve centers. There's a reason for Grape-Nuts, and there have been many imitations, a few of the article itself, but many more of the kind and character of the advertising. Imitators are always counterfeiters and their printed and written statements cannot be expected to be different than their goods.

This article is published by the Postum Co. at Battle Creek. Additional evidence of the truth can be supplied in quantities.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

GRAPEFRUIT LATES.
[By Direct Wire to the Times.]
NEW YORK, May 21.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) California oranges are firmer, even though sales are heavy, and there has been a net advance of 14¢ to 15¢ a box on sound fruit of all grades. The auction market is active, with buyers taking liberal quantities of best goods offered. Tightly decayed boxes are plentiful, and frequently go out at low figures. Wholesalers are doing fair business, but are feeling the competition of other fruits. Retailers are doing good business, and in a majority of instances are holding prices at previous level. Strawberries are plentiful and cheap, and are weakening the retail orange market somewhat.

NEW YORK CITY, May 21.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Twenty-one cars sold at auction today. Market is steady. Weather is favorable.

At Evergreen cemetery there was a ritualistic service by the Ladies of the Macdonalds and Daughters of Rebekah.

BREVITIES.

The volume of "Liners" in the Sunday Times has become so great that it is found necessary to ask publishers to place their Sunday advertisements earlier, especially Sunday real estate advertisements, in order to be printed must be in the office not later than 10 o'clock Saturday night. The printing of all real estate matter, including advertisements, in a part by itself Sunday involves somewhat slower press work, making it essential, in order to get the paper out on time, to stop receiving real estate ads at 10 o'clock Saturday night. Dealers will confer a favor on The Times office if they will turn in Sunday copy on Friday, when possible, or at least a part of it, and the balance early on Saturday. Sunday "Want" ads will still be received by phone and over the counter until 11 o'clock Saturday night.

The ladies' rest room on the top floor of the new wing of The Times' Building is open daily from 9 to 5. Ladies from town or country will find this a convenient place to write, rest or read. Stationery provided for correspondence. Bells and phones available. Take elevator in business office. All are welcome.

There are undelivered telegrams at the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company for Geo. Bland, Louis E. Lutzen, E. F. Jones, Mrs. Sadie J. Bradley, O. S. Bulky, Joe A. C. Stewart, M. W. Kirk, Will Hoover, County Cattle Inspector, Larry Press, C. W. Stewart, Geo. Dandi.

Card of Thanks.

To those friends who by their many acts of kindness, both during the recent illness of the late Mrs. Clara B. McKenzie, and after she had passed beyond, sought to lessen her suffering and to lighten the burden of those who were most dear, the family of H. C. McKenzie desires this space to express their deep appreciation and thanks.

CREDIT MEN MAY COME.

Effort Being Made to Bring National Convention of That Association to Los Angeles.

To secure the next annual convention of the National Credit Men's Association, in the autumn of the local organization of credit men, according to the terms of the discussion at the monthly banquet held at the Del Monte Tavern last evening.

The appointment of additional delegates to the convention to be held at Memphis, Tenn., on June 14, 15 and 16 of the present year was the most substantial movement made towards the furthering of the determination to evenhandedly and the national gathering for Los Angeles. The matter of an extension of invitation to the national convention by the local delegates was placed in the hands of the executive committee.

Over fifty credit men were in attendance last night. Of the various matters presented by Secretary Muesel, a communication from the national secretary recommending the establishment of local adjustment bureaus was considered of most importance. Expressions from various members of the organization, however, tended to show that the Los Angeles Board of Trade are at present attending to all matters of adjustment, and the project of establishing a bureau was not considered practicable.

Attorney Oscar Lawler delivered the address provided monthly for the members, selecting as a subject, "Security for Debt." Mr. Lawler's remarks were confined chiefly to a technical discussion of the subject, explaining in detail the exact position of the credit man in relation to the debtor and creditor. Interpolated with his remarks were many humorous stories, and at the conclusion of the address the speaker was rewarded with round of applause.

The value of the national convention of credit men to this city was well defined by President Simpson, who said: "We have been several years determining the advisability and feasibility of securing this gathering. The opportunity is now ripe, and with the meeting of the Imperial Council Mystic Shrine at practically the same date the matter of entertainment could be easily provided. Los Angeles, as represented at this year's convention, will resort to every honorable means to secure an acceptance of our invitation."

THRILLS OF BASKETBALL.

Most Exciting of Games is Won by U. S. C.

Varsity Girls Champions of the Southland.

High School Not So Fierce As Opponents.

BY LOUISE GEORGE.

"U. S. C. won the championship, U. S. C. has the cup. They got it on the 'Boola Song.' And now the game is up."

Up for all the other teams in the Women's Basketball League of Southern California.

The U. S. C. girls have defeated them one after another—and here's to the winners, for they are the greatest little players that ever rushed another team off its feet in the basketball courts of this flowery land of sports.

Five black-clad figures, eager, intent, playing like tigers, agile as cats, speedily, throwing, dodging, passing, and fast enough to make a streak of greased lightning look like a back number—that is the combination that wrested victory yesterday afternoon from their formidable opponents in the basketball team of the Los Angeles High School.

MARY PLUMMER WINS FIRST POINT FOR HIGH SCHOOL

This game was fought on the Marlborough court; it was a fair game, it was a rare game, it was a gamey game, and the most exciting basketball tussle ever known to the very oldest basketball inhabitant. Three points decided the contest, and the score read at the finish 15 to 12 for the U. S. C.

The air was tense as the great number of boys and girls, teachers, officers, partisans and friends gathered and tried to find room for themselves on the bleachers of the Marlborough court, and on every inch of space up to the very lines of the forbidden ground.

Down at the far end were the U. S. C. quarters. Pennants of red waved in the air, red bows fluttered, red flowers were in evidence. A man named Scott was out in front of this crowd. He waved his baton, and led a chorus followed in the Yale Boole Song that has sung many a team to victory on many other courts in many parts of this land:

"Oh, here we are, oh, here we are; The team that goes rolling up the score; We'll leave their team so far behind That they will never want to play us any more.

We'll do them up so good and brown, In fact we'll own the town, With a boola boole and a boola boole, and a boola boole, boola boole boole." High up on the most exclusive perch of all a solid phalanx of High School youth was massed for greater vocal effect. They had not been keeping still; oh, no.

Their pennant of blue and white was a giant of its kind, and stretched out many proud yards.

"Alibio, alibio. All bibo bibo burn. Bum get a rat trap. Bum get a rat trap bigger than a cat trap. Bum get a rat trap bigger than a cat trap. Bum get a rat trap bigger than a cat trap."

This was the High School's reply to the Boole song, and then the two teams lined up.

Blue and white, black and red—Ethel Hogan, captain, Mabel Payton, forwards; Alta Thurn, center; Lena Woodhead and Gladys Armstrong, guards. This was the line-up for the University of Southern California.

Mary Plummer, Annette Burke, forwards; Cleme Griffin, captain, center; Edna Augur and Sue Hunter, guards; then for the High School, center; Lena Woodhead and Gladys Armstrong, forwards; Miss Fanny Furman umpire for High School and Miss Rust of Marlborough umpire for U. S. C. Miss Caswell was referee.

The spectators scarcely breathed. The moment had come, and the ball was tossed. Biff! Its first tour was to the U. S. C. court, but some one fouled. Mary Plummer had a chance at a free throw; she made it, and the first blood was drawn by High School.

Ethel Hogan, the wonderful little captain of the winning team soon threw a field goal; Mabel Payton threw a field goal;

A banquet at the Lankershim finished up the red letter day for the girls basketball team of U. S. C.

THE BANQUET.

HONORS FOR GIRLS.

Celebrating the victory over the High School basketball team, the quintette of players from the University of Southern California were banqueted yesterday evening at the Lankershim by the young men of the varsity.

Sparkling speeches were given in response to the toasts and the young women were lauded for defeating every five with whom they have played.

The team occupied the place of honor at the banquet table which was loaded with good things to eat, and each speaker vied with the other in a good natured attempt to pronounce the prettiest encomium in honor of the players.

Charles Scott was toastmaster, and the following toasts were given: "The Team," Guy Dyer; "How They Did

HUMAN CATCH ON FISH LINE.

Thrilling Rescue of a Man Drowning in Surf.

Played With Reels, Landed by Frail Cords.

Remarkable Saving of Life Feat of Anglers.

LONG BEACH, May 23.—R. F. Kendig, Dewitt Browning, Joseph James and William Brothers of this city went to Huntington Beach Sunday on a fishing trip and had an exciting experience with a drowning bather whom they finally landed alive on shore by means of their lines.

It was a thrilling and remarkable rescue, believed to be the only one of the kind on record. But for the frail cords and little hooks attached to him by the fishing experts the living human being hauled out would now be in Davy Jones's locker.

About 9 o'clock a young man entered the surf, remained awhile, and went ashore, but soon took to the water again. He swam out beyond the breakers, became exhausted, and could not return. He succeeded in reaching the piling of the pier, to which he clung, the sharp edges of the barnacles cutting gashes in his hands and limbs. He was so weak that he could not climb, and the heavy swell broke over him and every few minutes. Death was imminent, and he held desperately to the only hope.

A boat put out to his rescue, but remained away from the pier, the sailor fearing the risk of striking the piling. The exhausted swimmer made a feeble effort to climb into the skiff, but capsize it, throwing both men into the water. The boatman managed to get on the upturned bottom, but drifted away from the struggling bather.

CATCH HUMAN FISH.

It was here that Kendig and Browning took a hand. Kendig is an experienced angler. He promptly cast his line, a 12-throw Dublin bass to the clinging man, and proceeded to play him as he would a fish, reeling in with the tide and giving play as the water receded.

Soon after Browning also got a line to the man and both anglers gradually brought him ashore through the breakers by means of their thin threads.

The young fellow left the beach as soon as he was landed without giving his name or thanking the men who saved his life. Kendig says there was no rope of any kind on the pier, and but for the fish lines the fellow would have been drowned. The wrecked boatman meanwhile paddled down the coast and finally landed safely.

OFFICER WEBB IS DISCHARGED.

STAR TAKEN AWAY FOR "LACK OF GOOD JUDGMENT."

Humane Society in Warm Meeting Chooses Successor to Officer Who Pleaded "Exhausting Circumstances" in Behalf of Iron Moulder Who Brutally Beat His Little Sister.

Having come to the conclusion that it was "lack of good judgment" which prompted "Humane" Officer John C. Webb to go into court and plead "exhausting circumstances" in behalf of William Gervais, the iron moulder, who so brutally beat his nine-year-old sister with a rawhide for losing 15 cents that she has been in the hospital for more than a week as a result, the Los Angeles Humane Society yesterday dispensed with the further services of said Webb. The following resolution was adopted at a special meeting of the society's board of directors, held in the O. T. Johnson building:

Resolved, that by reason of the lack of good judgment shown by J. C. Webb, as Humane Officer, in the handling of various cases that have recently come before him, the best interests of the society and of the public require that he be removed from office, and that his resignation as Humane Officer, tendered in this behalf, be accepted, and that while accepting his resignation, we hereby declare our entire confidence in his honesty, integrity and faithfulness, and our belief that he has at all times, while acting as Humane Officer, been actuated by a desire to advance the best interests of this society and of the public, and that we will, in the future, tender him our best wishes for his success and well-being in whatever line of work he may hereafter take up.

The application of H. C. Aiken was received. Mr. Aiken, after considerable deliberation, was appointed Humane Officer for the society.

It appears that the discharge of Webb was not accomplished without opposition, and that the meeting was "a warm one." As a sop to the friends of the discharged officer, within the society, the commendatory terms relating to him were incorporated in the resolution, which was then put through.

Henry C. Webb, who lives at Glendale. He was at one time employed by the Pinkertons and played some part toward the restoration of order in the Cripple Creek troubles.

WOULDN'T TAKE ETHER.

Receiving Hospital Patient Insisted Upon Seeing Operation Performed on His Own Hand.

"For pure and cool nerve," remarked Dr. Quint at the Receiving Hospital last evening, "I must give unlimited credit to a patient of ours, who surmounted any case which has ever come under my immediate attention.

"No, don't give me any of that stuff," exclaimed A. A. Kolb, of 1223 Santee street, as the physicians were about to administer an anesthetic to him for a patient had been placed on the operating table late yesterday afternoon. An employee of the National Mill and Lumber Company, he met with an accident after having resumed his afternoon's labors. Relaxing for a single moment a careful watchfulness of the machinery over which he was standing, Kolb's hand was drawn into a pulley and crushed out of shape.

The man was rushed to the Receiving Hospital and immediately placed under the care of surgeons. Kolb was informed that by the performance of a difficult operation the use of the hand might be regained in time, and he immediately consented in a clear voice, although suffering intense pain at the time. He refused an anesthetic and with remarkable nerve witnessed the entire operation in a conscious state.

PUBLIC SERVICE OFFICIAL FINDINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Investigation of the charges against the Budweiser saloon by the police board yesterday revealed traces of conspiracy and blackmail which may occasion a disquiet of the commission. The Water Commission yesterday notified the Council that the commission is not in a position to abolish the tax charged for connecting new service mains.

Harley Madden, a chauffeur, was fined in the Police Court for running off on a lark with one of his employer's automobiles.

Bondholders of the Lowe Gas Company are again trying to speak blood out of a turnip.

The trial of A. W. Meloling, a race-track patron, who, with his wife, is charged with having committed a number of perjuries from friends and acquaintances, took an odd turn yesterday when the defense asked the court to instruct the jury to acquit.

Harry Holland, the barber, who was mobbed a short time ago by overzealous neighbors who wanted to see yesterday before Justice Downing on the charge of having assaulted little Caroline Behnke, was discharged.

COMMISSIONERS FIND TRACES OF BLACKMAIL.

Senatorial Testimony in Saloon License Investigation—Attorney Tries to Explain Why Innocent Client Pleaded Guilty—Hatchett Couldn't Help Chipping In.

There is division among the Police Commissioners over the question whether they shall look a gift saloon license in the mouth.

A barkeeper of the Budweiser saloon at 130 South Main street pleaded guilty to selling liquor to a minor, He blamed Jud Rush, his attorney, and Rush admits the reverse—that placed Thomas Doran's $7500 license in jeopardy.

Some of the features of the case are decidedly unique. It has not a parallel in the annals of the Police Commission.

Gay Manville went to the Budweiser saloon in company with two plain clothes officers of Capt. Auble's squad on the morning of April 24, and there purchased a bottle of rye whiskey. Twice later in the day he returned and repeated the performance. The age limit when a boy is permitted to walk up to a bar and get drinks on short orders is 18 years. The Manville boys are 15.

On the fact of the returns this is a plain infraction and the Budweiser license is a forfeit which the Board has a right to claim. But the commissioners probing deeper, have discovered unmistakable traces of malice, and conspiracy and blackmail.

As a result of the detective work of Auble's sleuths, Ingram and Boyd, a Budweiser barkeeper named Caubin was arrested for selling liquor to minors. Caubin pleaded guilty in the Police Court and was fined $150, which he paid. Proprietor Doran discharged him.

But Caubin has fifty witnesses, many of them persons whose veracity cannot be impeached, who have testified that he was miles away from the Budweiser saloon at the time the liquor was bought.

The purchase was made on Caubin's day off.

This was surprise No. 1 for the Commission. Surprise No. 2 was J. L. Hatchett, a private detective, who apparently is trying to repay an old grudge.

Hatchett admits that he paid for the evidence against the Budweiser, that he hired another detective to work with him and that he has been hacking away at the Budweiser license for some time.

On the witness stand Hatchett said his name was a misnomer; that he never cut a man in his life. But he admits shooting one man in Los Angeles and another in Santa Barbara. He indulged in cutting angles while the witnesses were testifying, and kept chipping into the investigation until the Commission turned him over to an officer. Hatchett probably came near cutting his way into the chain gang for disturbing the peace when he was sworn in.

Manville, the young sport who purchased the whiskey at the Budweiser saloon, did not create a favorable impression as a witness.

Although claiming to be but 15 years of age, he is as tall as the average man of thirty. He has dark hair and looks like a Spanish student.

It is only when he talks that he gives evidence of his youth. His voice hasn't shed its knickerbocker yet.

Manville told about purchasing the liquor but made a bad break when he attempted to tell the barkeeper that he made the sale. He passed Caubin, the man who paid the fine, as "not the one" and picked out a youth no older than himself, who happened to be among the spectators, as the guilty vendor of liquor to infants.

But this youth promptly testified that he isn't a barkeeper, that he has never been inside a saloon and never heard of Doran or the Budweiser until yesterday morning.

Had it not been for the admission of guilt before the police justice the charges could have been dropped right there.

Caubin, the luckless bartender, testified that he never sold any liquor to minors, at least not on the day alleged in the complaint. He said that his day off, and he had so many witnesses to back up the assertion that the Commission were willing to admit that it was so.

Caubin said that he had been caught between the police and his boss and agreed to the fine of $150 of his own money.

Asked by Commissioner James why he pleaded guilty to a charge that he could not have committed, Caubin said: "Because Jud Rush told me to."

"I went to see him when I was arrested," went on Caubin, and he advised me that to plead guilty was the cheapest way out of the hole. I had already been fired by my boss, who wouldn't believe me because he had been told that two officers would swear that I sold the booze. I thought that I would get off with a light fine, that is what the attorney said. I have a little property here and have a wife and family to support and didn't want to lose it all. I knew how much money I didn't think there was much chance that an outsider would. Well I got out of it with the loss of $150 and my job."

Attorney Rush asked to be sworn and testified that Caubin's statements were true. He said that the barkeeper came to him right after his arrest and said he was not in the saloon or anywhere near it at the time the liquor was bought. "I told him how much it would probably cost to fight the case," said Attorney Rush, "also that he could probably get off by pleading guilty with a fine of $50 or less. He chose that as the cheapest way out of it."

"Why did you advise him to plead guilty when he said he could prove an alibi?" asked Commissioner James.

"The liquor business is not like other callings," answered the attorney. "Men who engage in selling liquor often have to walk up and take their medicine when they know they are not getting a square deal."

To the commissioner it was plain that Doran and his attorney knew that the police had evidence enough to convict some one in the Budweiser of selling liquor to Manville. Doran was on duty in the saloon when the purchase was made, and the offering of Caubin as a vicarious sacrifice has raised the question whether it was not the proprietor himself who actually made the sale.

Three witnesses testified that they saw Manville purchase the liquor but they were unable to point out the offending barkeeper. Special Officer Ingram had forgotten so much that his lapse of memory would probably have to be explained further to the Commissioners.

When the lunch hour came the case was not yet finished. Commissioner Johnson said that he had heard enough of evidence to convince him that the Budweiser license should be forfeited for selling liquor to minors. Deprecating the motive of the case, he tried to secure Doran's license. Mr. Johnson said that the fact that Captain Auble had sent Manville to the saloon in company with plain clothes officers and that they had seen him make the purchase is in itself sufficient evidence to justify the revocation of the license.

Concluding, he moved that the license be revoked.

Attorney Rush promptly asked for a continuance until he could produce further testimony. He said that he can prove by reliable witnesses that the motive of the case was to get the prosecution have offered to call the investigation off if Doran would pay enough to make it worth their while. He said that it was a plain case of blackmail.

Mayor McAdams turned to hear the additional evidence.

"To be convinced of this," he said, "I need evidence that it is a put job. This evidence was not got in the interest of law and order. It is the kind of evidence that each of us with very carefully before acting upon."

Commissioner Johnson consented to a continuance until next Tuesday.

"WE NEED THE MONEY."

WATER BOARD TO COUNCIL.

The Council is gently but firmly informed by a communication filed with the City Clerk yesterday that the water board is regulating the rates paid by urban consumers both for water and for service pipes.

A week ago the Council sent a request to the water board that it abolish the present charges for connecting service mains. Yesterday the Board replied that to do so would probably compel the board to raise the water rates.

The water board's reply is a reminder that the water board requires that the cost of connection be paid before the water is turned on.

The Water Commissioners recite in their communication that they have communicated to a number of Eastern cities and find that each of them makes a similar charge. They say that it would be unfair to make other consumers bear part of the expense of making a new connection.

As the Council has no jurisdiction over water rates this decision may be taken as final.

ANYTHING TO SAVE HUSBAND.

MRS. MELOLING KEEPS PROMISE AND PLEADS GUILTY.

The Husband Stands Trial and Seeks to Escape on Fine Point of Law—Had Admitted His Guilt but That is About All the Evidence Against Him.

A. W. Meloling and his wife, Almee, were before Judge Smith yesterday for the case by the action of the defense regarding the ruddy-haired Mrs. Meloling.

A week ago the court was informed that there was some doubt as to the sanity of Mrs. Meloling. It was desired to have her examined by two physicians. If she was pronounced insane she could not, of course, be tried, but if pronounced sane the court was assured that counsel would not put a young woman to plead guilty. Mrs. Meloling and Campbell made the examination and decided that Mrs. Meloling was sane and sane woman, and that she was sane and sane woman.

Mrs. Meloling pleaded guilty to the charge of having stolen a quantity of hand-painted china from the rooms of Mrs. Mallie Miller in the Hotel Granada, on South Grand avenue, on July 2 of last year. There was another charge against the defendant but that was allowed to remain in abeyance.

His wife having pleaded guilty put her out of the race, and the husband remained down to face trial. There was difficulty in obtaining a jury and the prosecution had closed its case by 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

But one of the witnesses examined no evidence was forthcoming tending to prove that the defendant had stolen the china, with one exception. Detective Duane and Rich testified to Meloling having confessed that he and his wife carried the china from the rooms, on South Grand avenue, down on July 2 of last year.

Att. Atty. Donnell got this confession in over the objections of Attorneys H. T. Morrow and Angelo L. Lundy. Donnell said that when the prosecution had closed the defense moved that the jury be instructed to acquit and the legal point involved was of sufficient importance for Judge Smith to adjourn court until this morning when arguments will be heard.

Though stolen articles were discovered in the possession of the defendants no testimony was produced to show that either Mrs. Meloling or her husband had taken the articles, until the matter of the confession was introduced. Just how far it may be possible to get a man to testify himself into the State's prison without his word being corroborated will be seen this morning.

That the Melolings did become possessed of a quantity of stolen property after that now being disputed over is no secret.

How far the husband was a willing partner in his wife's pilfering escapades has yet to be shown, but if the court should this morning instruct the jury that he is innocent of the charge, it will be revealed of the husband turned free and the wife held on her own peace.

There is not the slightest doubt that Meloling knew something of the various pilferings but to what extent he profited by them he alone knows. When his rooms at the Ormond house on South Hill street were searched, the detectives found one trunk filled with stolen goods. Meloling was one of those racketeers who thought he could beat the bookmakers at his own game. He had scores of form checks, had evolved a system of his own and was in short only a racketeer gambler and the police stated at the time of the arrest that the proceeds of several other burglaries found their way to the racketeer through him.

The wife's action in pleading guilty caused no surprise to the District Attorney. Her statement was just about the same as that told before, but there was no testimony of any kind to corroborate her assertions. She had suffered no injury, nor was there any indication that a jury could acquit her on the ground that she was so the defendant was ordered discharged.

Holland maintains that he was not at his barber shop at the time stated by Caroline Behnke, and that he is absolutely innocent of the offense alleged against him.

THE FEDERAL COURT. LOWE DIDN'T PAY INTEREST. NOW A NEW YORK STOCKHOLDER WANTS HIS MONEY.

Suit Against the Professor's Several Affiliated Gas Companies Filed in the United States Court and an Injunction Asked to Prevent Transfer of Any of the Properties.

The affiliated Lowe gas companies, after dodging from one court into another, splitting hairs over the particular brand of smoke that may constitute a nuisance in the arroyo at Garvanza, yesterday pleaded guilty to having violated the federal law of having weightier matters to attend to.

Prof. Lowe's inventive faculty has never extended to making good coin out of wind, and the Los Angeles Independent Gas Company, the Suburban Gas Company, and any other appendage companies there may be, have absorbed money—and lots of it. The flotation of bonds answered for current expenses as well as establishing a new plant, but the public has either not responded in "Independent" and "Suburban" gas, or else there have been heavy leakages somewhere, for the interest on the bonds has not been forthcoming.

Among the vigorous kickers against the methods of the Lowe Gas Company contingent is William G. Gallagher of New York, who began suit yesterday in the United States Circuit Court, charged before Justice Austin with assault with intent to commit murder failed to give bond in the sum of $5000 and was taken to the County Jail to await trial. The arrest is the outgrowth of an alleged altercation with Mrs. Francisca Ayala in Howard street, in which a knife is supposed to have figured prominently.

The Rounders. Judge Chambers' "grist" yesterday consisted almost entirely of familiar rounders, but the monotony was temporarily relieved by the appearance of Little Foster, Helen Saunders and Blanche Maxwell. This trio, of the distinct semi-monde type, contented themselves with a two of a kind, and departed with considerable haste expressing a desire to elude arrest in the future.

J. Burns, hailing from no determinable quarter, occupied a bench at head quarters, but all because he became possessed of a pass key and failed to repress a desire to place it in actual service. Burns is alleged to have extracted the following list of jewelry and clothing from a South Pasadena home yesterday: One gold ring, one watch, one diamond ring, one three-john thirty-two revolver and one single breasted coat and vest.

But he got no interest, but only the expression of regret that there was nothing doing. The defendant in the payment of interest has but the one meaning, and Gallagher wasn't taking any new investigations. He said that in any untoward happenings that might result. He tried to arrive at some settlement, but without success. He said that he had taken the first of all, asks that the court enjoin the defendants from disposing of any of its property, and that the trust funds be considered as a mortgage, and the same be foreclosed and the property be disposed of so as to pay the plaintiff's indebtedness.

Both the gas corporation, the California Bank, as trustee, and T. S. C. Lowe, as the agent behind the gas corporations, are made party defendants. Recently the rumor was spread abroad that these gas companies were to be taken over by moneyed interests in this city, but gas stock hasn't boomed to any startling extent since nor has any such transfer been announced.

A N AUTO LARK DULY PUNISHED.

EMPLOYEE OF WESTERN MOTOR COMPANY CAUGHT.

Caroused With Machine Belonging to His Employers—Mystery of the Westlake Avenue Shooting is Fully Cleared Up—A Brother's Care for Sister.

For the first time in this section of Southern California, the recently enacted law regulating the use of automobiles by others than their owners was executed yesterday afternoon by Judge Austin when a fine of $40 was imposed on Harley Madden, an employee of the Western Motor Car Company. Madden was charged with driving a car belonging to the company without authority. The case was heard in the Police Court yesterday.

On last Thursday evening yesterday's offender, in the company of Pearl Morton, a notorious character about the city, departed from Los Angeles early in the evening for a trip throughout the surrounding country. Several hours were spent, according to Madden's story, in visiting numerous road houses and other resorts of a like character. Before returning to the city both occupants of the machine had become well under the influence of intoxicants and had been seen by several witnesses to be driving recklessly.

President Charles B. Anthony, of the company, appeared in court and testified to the occupancy and use of the machine by Madden on the night in question, and without hesitation Madden pleaded guilty.

In deciding the case Judge Austin stated that considering the first offense the fine would be a nominal one. He stated further, however, that it was the intention of the authorities to establish a record of discrimination all users of motor cars who were not the actual possessors of the machines, or who had not procured the right to such use.

President Anthony stated to a Times representative that the one who had been in his home at the time he was shot was a forty horse-power machine, and one of the finest turned out by the company. He had been suspected of driving it. Mr. Anthony, on several previous occasions, and the securing of direct evidence and subsequent finding of the offender is considered of vital importance to other manufacturers throughout the State.

Doctor Owns up. The mystery surrounding the shooting at the home of Dr. M. J. Davis, 1213 Westlake avenue, on Sunday evening, was cleared up in Judge Chambers' court yesterday when G. L. Butterfield entered a plea of guilty to the charge of carrying concealed weapons and conspired to the payment of a $10 fine. Butterfield has stoutly maintained that the shooting was entirely accidental.

The fact was quite clearly established that Miss Butterfield, a sister, was visiting her brother's home at the time the shooting occurred. The exact relation between the brother and the physician. Following a short parley at the front door, Butterfield fired a shot through the glass at Dr. Davis, who was standing in the doorway. The bullet struck the doctor in the chest, at which time he was apprehended by the authorities who had been called to the scene by Attorney Adams, representing the prisoner, likewise Butterfield to the former Prince of Wales, stating that his client had been injured himself "like a gentleman" for the sole purpose of shielding his sister, whom he presumed was being led away by a witness, Night Watchman John Eckenberger, was called to substantiate the story that Dr. Davis had requested protection for the young lady.

Editorial Indiscretion. Francisco P. de Gutierrez, formerly editor of the Spanish paper, La Gaceta, charged before Justice Austin with assault with intent to commit murder failed to give bond in the sum of $5000 and was taken to the County Jail to await trial. The arrest is the outgrowth of an alleged altercation with Mrs. Francisca Ayala in Howard street, in which a knife is supposed to have figured prominently.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

Two of the most charming young ladies of the city have been announced to the betrothal of Cupid and are engaged to be married. The announcements came as a surprise, as both have been most receptive as to their plans. At last they have decided to be June brides and it is to be a double wedding. Of course you are holding your breath waiting to know "Who are they?"

One is Miss May Houston, daughter of Mrs. George M. Houston of Vermont avenue, who is to marry Wallace Jones, and the other is Miss Lulu Patterson, daughter of Mrs. Frank D. Patterson of No. 224 Hudson avenue, and she is to marry Miss Houston's brother, Charles Houston.

Miss Houston is a talented and beautiful girl of the brunette type and is well known in the younger set. Mr. Jones is a son of Mrs. Elizabeth Jones and is interested in the Jones Brass Works.

Mrs. Patterson and her daughter are here from Chicago, having made their home here only for the past year. They have traveled extensively, spending much of their time in Europe, and Miss Patterson is a cultivated and charming girl, as well as a very good dancer. The double wedding will take place at Unity Church on the evening of June 21 and the fair young brides with their sweet girl attendants will doubtless make an unusually pretty tableau. As all four young people have many friends who have been here for some time, the church will doubtless be filled with a host of the friends and relatives.

Miss Houston is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Anderson, formerly Miss Elizabeth Alexander, whose wedding was one of the notable ones of the winter season. As yet the attendants have not been decided upon.

The affair was a Dutch whist party and great merriment was caused by this game as it necessitates playing first hand with no trumps, the next regular whist, the next "blind" whist and so on. A number of handsome prizes were awarded, all in cut glass.

The home was transformed into a bower of flowerly loveliness. In the drawing room, papyrus and ferns made a setting of tender green for the long stalks of pink gladioli and the bowls of delicately tinted Marie Van Houten roses. A canopy of filmy smilax was over the dining-room and scarlet gladioli and ferns barked the mantel and buffet. Glowing masses of the bright mustard blooms adorned the reception hall and feathery bamboo was barked about the library, while baskets and vases filled with red carnations added to the charming effect. About sixty guests were entertained during the afternoon and evening. Among the hostesses were: Mrs. Romayne Williams, Mrs. W. R. Maiden, Mrs. C. O. Beautiful Function.
The swish of silken gowns, the thrill of sweet music and the fragrance of spring flowers all contributed to the recherche function given yesterday afternoon by that lovely little hostess, Mrs. J. T. Fitzgerald, at her beautiful home, No. 2215 West Adams street. The luncheon a number of guests will be invited in for the afternoon and games will be played.

Under the soft amber mission lights in the long sweep of hall, tulip poppies glowed, and through the arched stained glass window over the fireplace and piano a subdued light shone on the golden flowers. Rustic baskets swung with glass and silver, the some roses mingled. The broad window was nearly hid with clambering roses of peony pink. Just a step through the hall and on the vine-clad porch, tea was served by dainty maids. Here, red roses in rustic baskets hung and round tables were set here and there. Mrs. Fitzgerald wore an imported gown of white silk mull elaborately trimmed with medallions and frills. Valencienne lace. BUILDING OF A DESERT TOWN.

Speedy Las Vegas is Fast Becoming a City.

Soon to be Lighted With Modern Street Lamps.

Salt Lake Making an Effort to Secure Trade.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

LAS VEGAS (Nev.) May 21.—From morning to night the sound of the hammer is heard, and the new town in the desert is going up in a manner which is surprising even to those who predicted rapid growth. Town lots are still to be had at the original price, and there is still some demand for them, but the company has sold most of the choice locations.

It costs something to ship supplies into the gold district from here. One freighter left two days ago for Bullfrog with sixteen mules and a big wagon with a trailer. The freight bill to be collected from this point to Bullfrog was an even $1000.

Prospectors are coming from Arizona and New Mexico, and within twenty-five miles of here they report some good prospects. Many of them are looking for the lost mine on the Big Muddy, some thirty miles from Las Vegas. There has been one tragedy over that mine. Two men knew of its location, and during a quarrel one was killed. The other is serving a penitentiary sentence. He is the only person who can tell where the rich claim is, but he is not telling. When he is released he expects to become a millionaire. Meanwhile scores of prospectors are trying to find the ledge.

The health of the town is so good the doctors and the undertakers find fault with business. There is no boom in a Las Vegas cemetery property. Prospectors returned yesterday from the mountain peak, and report two feet of snow. They could do no prospecting. Hotel accommodations here are not yet up to the Los Angeles standard. Hotel Las Vegas is not fireproof, for it is built of heavy canvas. There are thirty-one rooms with a good dining room. The dust here will penetrate anything, and to be happy one should try to be to clean. All the comforts of a well regulated home cannot be found in the new town at the front, but this place will average up with the rest of them.

A big automobile started for Bullfrog this morning with five persons and a banner on top which was inscribed "Bullfrog or Bust." If they follow the freighters' road, they may have trouble, as the freighters have declared no one can use that road but themselves.

An unmarked grave tells of the sudden death of some one who took fodder that did not belong to him, and was caught in the act. The frontier it pays to be honest, because it is dangerous to be found to be otherwise. The Land and Water Company will use water power to light the town, as there is an eighty-foot fall from the springs to the town. A gas company will be organized as soon as enough applicants can be secured to make it worth while. An ice plant is to be established. People are praying for ice that now comes all the way from Los Angeles.

Salt Lake merchants do not propose to stand by and see Los Angeles gobble up all the business here. One Salt Lake firm has sent in several carloads of goods, despite the fact that the freight rate is higher than from Los Angeles. They simply made the price right, and got the business. There is every reason to believe that there will be keen competition between the two cities, and it behooves Los Angeles merchants to look to their interests if they want the Las Vegas business to come their way.

There is no Sunday here. Work on the new building goes ahead on the first day of the week as on the fourth or fifth, or any other day. Churches are not very numerous as yet; in fact, the skyline of this town would not disclose any great number of steeples. If religious services are held here, they are in private tents, and no public announcement of them is made. There is a justice of the peace here to look after the peace and dignity of the great State of Nevada, but he does not have a great deal of criminal business. He is an ex-Mayor of a town in Washington, and he is a member of the camp of all parts of the country here, but there has not been much time for the organization of political parties or campaign clubs. No officers have been elected as yet, but that will come later, after the newcomers get through with their first work of home building.

There has been but little disorder here. The people seem to be following that unwritten law of the frontier—attending strictly to their own business and treating their neighbors as well as they will permit themselves to be treated.

The Economical OLDSMOBILE

THE WORLD'S STANDARD

It costs so little to operate an Oldsmobile runabout no one can afford to ride in other ways, and no one whose time is of value can walk as cheaply.

How much hay and oats does it use? None, when it's not in use—and only one cent's worth of power for two miles when it works for you. It goes where there's no car tracks, and even where horses and wagon can't go. How else can you drive four people one mile for one-half cent?

Come in and have a drive in one and see what an inexpensive luxury an Oldsmobile really is.

WOMAN MADE THIS CAPTURE.

CAUGHT MAN IN A ROOM AND CAUSED HIS ARREST.

Prisoner Was Searching Clothing of an Absent Tenant When Detective-Patrolman Found of Trade Try to Secure Free Site for Proposed Woman's College.

PANAMA, Office of The Times, May 23.—Mrs. Mary Thompson, a chambermaid of the Arcade rooming-house, No. 134 West Colorado street, discovered a stranger in the act of stealing the clothing of an absent tenant. She screamed, shut and locked the door to the room, and began shouting loudly for help. Her cries brought John Palmer, another roomer, to the scene, and while Palmer held the would-be burglar at bay, Miss Thompson telephoned for the police. A subsequent inspection of the prisoner has escaped by jumping the laundry window, but he evidently intended to take advantage of the opportunity to land abruptly on the sidewalk. The fellow was escorted to jail by Patrolmen McIntyre and Bristol, and is pending an investigation. He gave his name as Julius Rufalo, and on his person was found a small amount of money.

PUT FOOT DOWN IN SAN PEDRO.

ALLEGED BATH-HOUSE LEASE IS REFUSED BY TRUSTEES.

Application for Ten-Year Privilege for Piece of Outer Harbor Denied by the Town's Governing Body—Protests Filed from Senator and Trustee.

SAN PEDRO, May 23.—Liveryman F. D. Foote has achieved no greater success than Luke Kelly as a bath-house promoter, and for the present there will be no indoor bathing on the outer harbor. The liveryman, more modestly known as Kelly, sought a ten-year lease on about 600 feet of frontage, and tonight the City Trustees turned his application down by a full vote. A protest was received by telegram from Senator Perkins, San Francisco, expressing the opinion that it would be inadvisable and foolish to grant the application. Trustee George H. Peck, who is temporarily in San Francisco, urged his opposition to the proposition. It was read from J. C. Williamson of Los Angeles, owner of extensive adjoining property. Trustee N. W. Tilton moved that the application be referred to the committee on harbor matters, and all present voted for the motion.

SANTA MONICA.

WOMEN MAY SIGN.

SANTA MONICA, May 23.—For several weeks Santa Monica has been struggling along in the dark preparing petitions to the City Trustees for a bond election for sewers, fire houses and concrete bridges. As these petitions were defeated within the year it was the interpretation of the law that before they could again be considered by the voters a petition of 50 per cent. of the qualified electors was required. It turns out that the law requires 50 per cent. of the taxpayers instead of electors. This makes women, minors, non-residents eligible to sign the petitions and with that understanding of the law it will be but a short time until the required number of signatures are secured and the election called.

PIER SITUATION STRAINED.

The pier situation is still strained. The application of M. R. King for permission to erect a pleasure wharf at the foot of Marine street has been referred to the City Trustees committee on judiciary. Marine street is near the dividing line between the two cities, but the lines are so peculiar, by reason of the narrow strip of county territory between the two towns that a short distance from shore all control of the projected pier would be lost to Santa Monica and would be vested in the city of Los Angeles. The matter of granting any permit covering the foot of Marine street.

WHIFFS ALONG SHORE.

Work is being hurried in the installation of automatic telephones at the pier. The City Trustees have the new system in operation on this beach by the end of the week. On the North Beach bowling alleys last night the Monarch team of Los Angeles defeated the Santa Monica team by a score of 2905 to 2335. A. C. Ramsey has been added to the local police force.

The Times has become so great that it is found necessary to ask patrons to get their Sunday real estate announcements, which in order to be printed must be in the office not later than 10 o'clock Saturday night. FIGHT SHY OF THREE YEARS.

Politicians See No Charm in Long City Term.

Breaks up Combination for Retaining Office.

"See Mott," the Motto of the Federal Hunters.

Paradoxical as it may seem, some of the trained politicians who hold or aspire to public jobs are fighting shy of a nomination to any office at the next city convention.

Several who now hold municipal positions and who, under ordinary circumstances, would like to succeed themselves, are beginning to stand from under the possibility of a renomination and are casting about for other places in the political fold.

Already a number of city office-holders have announced their intention of seeking nomination to places on the county ticket.

There is assurance, however, that there will be no shortage of Barkleys when the city slate is made up. There may be no birds in last year's nest, but the next setting will see many new ones hatched.

It is all on account of the new law that provides for city elections to be held in odd-numbered years, causing them to alternate with instead of to be held in the same year with county, State or national elections.

To bring about this change, the law provides that municipal officers elected one year from next fall shall hold office for three instead of two years. Under this arrangement the succeeding election will be in 1909 instead of 1905.

It would seem that a three-year term were far more desirable than one that extended over only two years, but the practical politicians take a different view of the matter.

The man who already has served the city for one or two terms and who is elected for the three-year term would have his political life at the expiration of that period.

The usual procedure for a city official who has exhausted his welcome at the polls is to try to get elected to a county office. With the following that he has managed to gather about him during his term of office, it is not so hard to gather support for something maybe just as good or even better.

FOLLOWING GETS AWAY. This is all very well when the county convention is held the same year, but let twelve months elapse between the two conventions and the following is scattered to the four winds, as well as up to the air. Hence the wish to get from under the old law.

Louis Schwabe, city auditor, has his eye on the Republican nomination for the office of county auditor, while City Clerk LaFollette is looking for a county collector for the county. City Clerk LaFollette, while he has not declared, probably will not be a candidate to succeed himself, apparently being willing to take what may come his way when the three-year term is at an end.

The scramble for either county nominations is growing lively, with the Sheriff's office, as usual, the center of activity.

Sheriff White may run again, but Chief of Police Hammel, who was White's predecessor in that office, is likely to be his most formidable opponent, with Under Sheriff Yonkin as another possible candidate. Former Sheriff John Burr also is mentioned. It would be like a summer without sunshine if John Burr were not mentioned.

Coroner Trout is said to be willing to succeed himself, while Dr. E. P. Sawyer, who tried and failed to get the nomination at the last convention, probably will enter the lists again.

"SEE MOTT," THEIR MOTTO. FEDERAL JOB HUNTERS' SLOGAN. If you want to go East, see a railroad man; if you want a government job, C. Mott—Brother Mott—at the postoffice.

Hunters of Federal jobs under the new Senatorial dispensation are camping hot on the trail of Postmaster M. H. Jones, who is supposed to be the local dispenser of patronage for his brother, Senator Frank P. Flint.

There has been only the coldest kind of comfort for the horde of "push" workers who have had their eyes glued to the keys of the various United States offices in Los Angeles, watching for the incumbents to pack up their things and go before their terms expire.

The incumbents exhibit a shocking lack of consideration for the hungry watchers, and the alarming word has gone forth that they won't leave until they are asked to do so.

"See Mott for me, will you?" is the supplication of the men who have waited over since the Senatorial campaign for something to drop into their hats.

"See Mott," echoes down the line until it dies away in the distance to a faint "Mott" and fainter "Mott" until the doubtful "Mott" is all that can be heard.

Just what the counties outside of Los Angeles are to get in the Federal shake-up when it comes—if it comes at all.

NO ONE YET ARRESTED FOR SELLING CHEAP SPECTACLES. No one has yet been arrested for selling spectacles that are a curse to humanity. It is true that there are many Los Angeles people, who today are wearing glasses that are daily harassing them to a stage of blindness, and finally the ability to enjoy the grand surroundings of Nature is destroyed, and the result is everlasting darkness and helplessness. Eventually the Legislature will pass a law making it unlawful for anyone to sell spectacles, that has not passed the Oculists' Examination. Glasses are not merchandise, but the result of professional skill. This fully explains why those experiencing inconvenience of eyesight visit an expert Oculist like Dr. C. C. Logan, who is a Graduate of the best medical college at home, then studied abroad in the most famous School of Ophthalmology in Europe, the University of Vienna, and manufacture glasses from the French crystal, to suit the eye, thereby curing headaches caused by a continuous use of magnifying, cheap spectacles, that strain the optic nerve, that often results in blindness.

Dr. C. C. Logan gives free consultation during his office hours—10 a.m. to 5 p.m.—at 453 South Broadway.

The word has gone forth that such offices as are peddled out are to go only to those who are entitled to reward for past services, or who may be useful in various ways in the future; wherefore, some of the present aspirants are said to stand very little show of landing anything.

How many women are troubled with insomnia! How few, alas, habitually sleep the night through and rise refreshed.

If you can't sleep it is because your nerves will not let your body rest. Women's nervous troubles come from female diseases. Their delicate organism is a network of intricate nerves. No woman can suffer from female irregularities without eventually ruining her nervous system. Get rid of female disease and the perfect sleep of childhood will return.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

cures all female troubles and restores nerve equilibrium and brings sound, restful, healthful, natural sleep. Thus does this wonderful remedy operate to bring health to suffering women.

Wakefulness and Nervousness Cured

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Last spring, I lost my appetite, had headaches, and bearing down pains with cramps so that I was in perfect misery. I became wakeful and extremely nervous.

I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and am pleased to state that I derived immediate benefit and soon enjoyed permanent relief.

Within eight weeks I was restored to normal health and felt refreshed and strengthened as though I had enjoyed a lengthy vacation.

Since that time I have recommended your Compound to a number of my lady friends suffering with female irregularities, and those who have used it report great benefit from its use.

ELEVEN "POPS" FOR MISS ARTA.

Long Line of Suitors After Waitress Heiress.

Propose in Short Order Over the Lunch Counter.

Ardent Wooing of Hunters for Home and Cash.

Eleven proposals of marriage were made yesterday to Miss Arta Mickel, the second-street waitress who has fallen heiress to a fortune.

When they gazed upon her picture printed in The Times yesterday, eleven men had a feeling that they could love her—even if it were as much as $25,000.

Proposing to a girl who is feeding "ham an' it" to another fellow at the same time, proved, however, to be a singularly difficult social feat.

It is as public to be obliged to shout your fervid appeals after her as she disappears kitchenward or to be interrupted in your soft song of love by some guy who butts in with a growl about burned Irish stew.

The first man who came along was a sandy-haired laundry driver.

He walked busily up and down in front of the Rival restaurant for a long time before he could get up his courage to come in. The boss became suspicious that he might be a labor union picket and went out to throw him off the sidewalk.

To him the love-lorn swain confided his grand passion.

The man was very much alarmed lest he should fall in love with the wrong lady.

"It's the one at the right table," he whispered hoarsely. "You don't suppose those newspaper men could have lied about it, do you?"

"No," replied the waitress, "it was the one at the right table," he faltered.

When a buxom woman bustled up to the table and shoved a menu card at him, however, his heart told him the truth.

"He gave her a fond look and said, 'Ain't there any butter goes with this?' growled a man across the table."

"Just as soon as I saw it," said the waitress, "I knew it was the one at the right table."

When she came back, the laundryman, who had been clearing up her place at the long-distance telephone.

"Hello," said a faint voice.

"Hello," replied the fascinating heiress abruptly.

"Air you that heiress?" queried the anxious voice at the other end of the line.

"Yes; hurry up," came the reply.

"Well, I have a little ranch at Hollywood and a kavin' heart."

And to him Love answered, "One man, a stack and a shorty brown; burn 'em up in a hurry."

At the end of the telephone line a dream of love ended in an excited sputter of astonishment.

A messenger boy came galloping in with a burning letter which left the girl's cheeks a rosy red.

"My, but he's awful jealous," she said, and tucked the letter away.

Another man came up from Long Beach and wanted to take an option on the premises; that is to say, he wished her to leave the matter open until he could come in with the proposition.

"I got a good ranch in itself," he said frantically, as she started to hang up the phone.

"Well, you'll have to quit it; I don't like the life," she said putting a cover on his hopes.

The postman looked at her suspiciously as he came handing her a bunch of letters.

"Is there a Miss Arta Mickel here?" he asked.

As she came up with her hand out, he recognized her picture and his face split into a smile. "Oh, I see," he said indignantly. "Well I guess this isn't a lottery scheme—no blanks."

A small of half oil came wandering in, closely followed by a man, dressed up to kill, with his mustache curled.

He looked cautiously round out of the corner of his eye. "Which," he said and bowed off in a "hm."

He lifted up both hands to see which was the one he wrote with; that was the writing one; by this means he was guided to the right-hand table.

He waited with an expectant air, furiously touching up the waxed ends.

When the menu card was brought to him from behind, he bowed like a courtier of the Court of Louis XIV.

"Merci," he said. "Will Mademoiselle honor me with soup?"

"Dear or fire hose?" was the bark that came back to him.

Horror! Mon Dieu! Ach! Thunderbolt!

It was a man waiter with a face that would crack ice.

parted in a rage and an aroma of hair oil.

They kept coming so all the morning; yes, and all the afternoon.

Toward evening, a suspicious symptom was noted. Upon the third finger of Miss Mickel's left hand was a tiny solitary diamond.

"That," she sniffed indignantly. "Puh! I bought it myself. I don't have to have any man buying rings for me. Well, what if I have it on that finger?"

Is there anything the matter with the finger?"

Matter with the finger? Ah the finger! Precious finger! Is there any slight so charming, a possession so rapturous, spectacle so entrancing as the third finger of the left hand of a young lady who can draw a check for $25,000?

However, Miss Mickel protests that she is still heart whole in spite of her sieged affections.

"There seems to me," she said scornfully, "to be an awful lot of men looking for a happy home around this town."

Cruel heiress!

MILKMEN IN SQUABBLE.

LACTEAL DISPENSERS ARRESTED IN SAN DIEGO.

Naval Reserves Likely to Visit Los Angeles on July Fourth—Brother Sacks Man Reported to Have Been Murdered by the Yaqui Indians. May Invoke Referendum.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES) SAN DIEGO, May 23.—Several of the leading milkmen have been arrested for violation of the ordinance which provides that no vessels in which milk or cream is delivered shall be left with the consumers. The law provides a penalty of $50 or imprisonment in the City Jail for twenty-five days, or both. The ordinance has been in effect since 1902, and has been generally regarded, but of late a new dairy has been opened which has been delivering milk in glass bottles, believing that the fact that the bottles were sterilized was sufficient excuse for serving it in that form to customers.

The other dealers, however, insisted that this was not a compliance with the law, and the arrest followed.

How far has your trade-mark traveled?

How many know it? Why stop there?

Many manufacturers who are not advertising hesitate because they feel that their is a "peculiar" business, not realizing that this same word "peculiar" applies to practically every business on earth.

No two businesses operate on exactly the same basis. Trade conditions vary.

There are jobbers to be placated, dealers to be soothed and the public to be convinced; the last is the most important.

Bend your energies to that end and all the "peculiar" conditions incident to your business become less and less important.

No matter how many reverses you have met in the lower courts of jobber and dealer, do not forget that the supreme court is the judgment of the American people who look to the advertising pages of their favorite magazine for the things they want and need.

Never depreciate quality to meet trade conditions, because the people who finally pay for your product want quality above all else. Price is a secondary consideration.

Your name or your trade-mark and the arguments that are back of it can be placed before the attention of five million people by a judicious use of the advertising columns of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL, the rate of which is six dollars per agate line.

DEEDS HALF FOR LEGAL SERVICE.

BIG VENTURA COUNTY ESTATE MAY BE DIVIDED.

Deed Placed on Record Whereby a Large Part of the Camarillo Holdings is Conveyed to Certain Attorneys—Church Site at Nordhoff Blessed by Bishop Conaty.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES) VENTURA, May 23.—The great Camarillo estate seems likely to get into the courts. A deed was placed on record yesterday which has aroused considerable public interest. The deed in question cites the transfer by Arcadia Camarillo, Mahoney, et al., to Knight & Haggerty, the San Francisco attorneys, and B. T. Williams, a local attorney, an undivided one-half interest of the interest of the parties of the first part in and to the Camarillo estate.

The consideration is legal service. The property involved is mainly the Calleguas rancho, now owned and held by Juan and Adora Camarillo. The rancho embraces 10,000 acres, and it is worth easily $1,000,000. It is considered one of the finest ranches in the State. When the elder Camarillo died the property passed to the mother, who gave the ranch into the keeping of her two sons. The other heirs, his daughter, were excepting Mrs. Mahoney, settled with by the sons, and relinquished any claim on the rancho property.

The filing of the present deed is thought to mean a lawsuit with the intention of procuring a part of the rancho.

CHURCH SITE BLESSED.

Church Conaty officiated at Nordhoff in the breaking of ground and blessing of the site of the new Catholic church to be erected at that place. He was assisted by Rev. Grogan of this city. Revs. Laubacher and Pujol of Oxnard and Rev. King of Santa Paula. The latter will be the priest presiding over the new church. A large number of people were present from this city, Santa Paula, and in and about Nordhoff. The church will be a pretty edifice and will be finished in two months, when dedicatory exercises will be conducted by the bishop. Bishop Conaty spent last evening in this city, the guest of Rev. Grogan. He left for Los Angeles this morning. The grounds of the Nordhoff church were purchased for $15,000. It faces the main street of the village.
